

La Jolla Area Takes Its Case To Court

Expressing the opinion that community input was not obtained in the decision to close McFadden Elementary School, residents of the La Jolla area Monday afternoon sought a temporary restraining order from Superior Court to prevent Placentia Unified School District trustees from leasing or disposing of the facility.

Immediate action on the order was denied and it was held over for a hearing on May 18.

The action followed several weeks of preparations and organization to combine the neighborhood for the unique effort. La Jolla area residents will continue fund raising activities, in a modest income neighborhood, to provide the court costs. Legal services are being donated by attorneys Judith Kaluzny, Fullerton and Francisco Firmat, Santa Ana.

A summons to court was served Monday night at the PUSD Board meeting by members of the Citizens for the Preservation of McFadden School on Superintendent of Schools John Tynes and three board members, board president John Balducci, vice president Jean Pappas and member Dr. William Yates. Guy Ehrlich, who was not a member of the board when the McFadden decision was formulated, was not served.

It was indicated this week that the legal actions will seek to vindicate alleged violations of the peoples' civil rights. There is also contention that PUSD trustees did not act in good faith and may have violated the tenets of the Brown Act by making the McFadden decision in closed chambers.

"It is most unfortunate that the trustees did not meet and confer to work out a solution to the McFadden problem," Mrs. Kaluzny explained. "We are alleging that these people (La Jolla residents) have been shut out of the democratic process and that they have no recourse but to bring a lawsuit."

Mrs. Kaluzny reports that the complaint states that the McFadden area people have been treated differently than their neighbors. "It is alleged invidious discrimination based on ethnic origin which violates the constitution of the state of California."

They are guaranteed equal protection under the law by the Fourteenth Amendment."

The attorney added that it was most unfortunate that trustees "did not meet and confer with the neighborhood to work out a solution to the McFadden problems and did not present their problems and concerns to the community."

"Shut out of the decision making process they have been forced to go to the courts for justice and due process."

Board President John Balducci said that trustees will have no comment on the summons at this time. Ruth Chaidez, chairman of the McFadden Committee told trustees: "The board failed to listen to us. Had they done that, this might not have been necessary. We have been put aside for too long and we are going to continue to struggle for justice and our rights."

In a written statement from the committee, it was pointed out that the school district is forcing the burden of integration on minority students.

A Closer Look

Observing what happened at the Placentia Unified School District Board meeting Monday night can hardly have been an exhilarating experience for anyone.

It is genuinely sad that any group of parents or residents of this school district feels that they must resort to the protection of the court to make themselves heard.

We cannot imagine that it was a happy occasion for board members either.

Forced to this device, the Mexican-Americans of the La Jolla area, the people least able to carry it financially, must now bear the burden of the plea for justice. People who feel they have been treated fairly would scarcely resort to court action nor go through this type of grinding experience just for the fun of it.

We cannot help but believe that if human talent and ingenuity can convert a barren field into a Disneyland, something more intriguing and meaningful than a sudden demise could not be found for McFadden School.

The board, however, is to be congratulated on another matter... it's apparent willingness to reassess its position on including education as a possible category of interest in the selection of a trustee to fill a now vacant post.

In a rather startling previous decision, board members had deleted education as a subject for their interest when evaluating individuals for the unfilled vacancy.

It seemed like a totally untenable position. Just when does education stop being important in any endeavor? And if it is declared unimportant for any reason, just

Chino Hills Good News And Bad

A tandem bill to designate 68,000 acres of the Chino Hills area into park and wilderness use, last week successfully passed through the Ways and Means Committee of the California Assembly on its way to the floor of the lower house.

The bill will be sponsored in the House by Assemblyman Bruce Nestadene.

The action follows a vote by the California Senate 22 to 11, passed in March to ask the State Parks and Recreation Department to make a feasibility study for the use for Chino Hills as a park and wilderness area. That action was sponsored by State Senator John Briggs.

The bill is in the form of a resolution and as such does not require the governor's signature.

In a related issue, the city of Costa Mesa last week became the fifth municipality to support the Inter-County Airport Authority (ICAA) in its petition to make a study of possible airport sites for a

Eric Lassen Speaks At Meeting

Eric Lassen, Orange County architect and consultant on historic preservation, will be the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Placentia Founders Society, which is dedicated to the preservation of the Bradford House. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, April 27, in the Meeting Room of the Placentia District Library and is open to the public without charge.

Lassen is expected to speak on a recent architectural survey he has made of the Bradford House, one of Placentia's Heritage Homes. The well known Orange architect also is chairman of the Historic Preservation Committee of the Orange County Chapter of the American Institute of Architects and was recently selected by Orange County as a consultant on the restoration of the Old Orange County Courthouse in Santa Ana.

The Courthouse is scheduled to be converted into a museum as soon as the refurbishing can be accomplished.

Lassen also has been involved in an advisory capacity on a large number of restoration projects throughout the county including the Heritage House in Fullerton, the Howe Waffle House in Santa Ana and the city of Huntington Beach's second year Housing and Community Development Block Grant Program.

Nash Pleads No Contest To Charges

Terry Lee Nash, Anaheim, an athlete at Esperanza High School when in attendance there, Wednesday pled nolo contendere to a charge of reckless driving with resultant bodily injury to a human being, involving a traffic accident in August, 1976.

Nash will return to the court of Judge Phillip McGraw in North Orange County Municipal Court for sentencing on May 19.

The accident resulted in the death of 16-year-old Lucille Rico who was walking, with her sister, in a crosswalk on Chapman Avenue in front of the Bargain Basket Shopping Center. The 7-year-old sister, Guadalupe Rico, was severely injured and hospitalized. The girls are daughters of Mrs. Lucille Rico, Placentia.

Nash had originally been charged with killing a human being without malice, also a misdemeanor. This charge was amended; the court reported this week.

2-Year-Old Drowns In Local Pool

A two-year-old boy, Richard Dominguez of Fullerton, visiting at 1708 Hamer Placentia, was found face down in the shallow end of the pool at the local home last week. He was pronounced dead at Placentia Uinda Community Hospital.

The apparent drowning occurred late Tuesday afternoon. Placentia Paramedic records show at the home of the boy's aunt.

Trustees Eye $30 Million Budget

A four cents increase in the tax rate became a possibility with the second preliminary budget for 1977. "Served by Placentia Unified School District trustees Monday night."

However, the document, working budget number 3, is predicated on a projected 9 per cent increase in the assessed valuation of properties in the school district, an admitted conservative estimate.

Dr. John Mullender, associate superintendent of PUSD schools said that he did not actually expect a tax increase, but estimated it so as not to overlook eventualities. Last year's assessed valuation increase was 14 per cent.

The working document viewed Monday night carries a total hovering around $30 million, a $40,000 decrease from the first preliminary budget. The exact amount is $29,977,598.

Mullender outlined that step and administration are included in the figures for longevity and increased education, but no provision for an anticipated $200,000 increase in the cost of health insurance.

Mullender predicted that liability insurance will inflate by 30 per cent this year and workman's compensation by 50 per cent as well as other substantial increases in budget items.

Total assessed valuation estimated in the budget for 1977-78 is (Continued on Page 13)

Placentia, which has already secured the home of the English nation may find a new home for the Knott's Berry Farm preserves, rides, salad dressings, breads, meat, fish, beverages, fruit, scrubs, candy and portion control items.

These Knott's Berry Farm specialties may be produced for the country in Placentia in about four years, according to statements by Don Oliphant, a general partner in the firm and grandson of Walter Knott.

The announcement was made last week in a real estate transaction in which Knott's Berry Farm acquired a 14.1-acre parcel of land in Placentia. The acreage is located on the east side of Meirone Avenue between Orange Grove Avenue and (Continued on Page 13)

Heritage Board Eyes July Fourth Show

Possibility that the Placentia Heritage Days Festival board would agree to sponsor an annual Fourth of July fireworks, show and community fair was discussed last week at the group's monthly meeting.

The Heritage board, however, would ask that the city finance the fireworks package.

Further discussion is planned with city government to see if arrangements could be agreeable to both parties. The advisory committee is advancing the prospect that the city would annually provide the fireworks and the Heritage Days committee sponsor game and food booths, arts and craft displays and musical and other entertainment at Bradford Stadium. A decision will be free.

An Out East type of picnic would be incorporated into the activities with games such as sack and three-legged races, and horseshoe pitching.

The board also selected a theme for this year's 15th annual Heritage Days Festival which will be held from October 1 through 9 with the big annual parade on October 8. The Placentia-Yorba Linda-Lake Forest has agreed to sponsor the parade.

The theme suggested by Frank

PUSD Doubles It's Meeting Allowance

Trustees of the Placentia Unified School District Monday night increased their compensation for attending meetings 100 per cent to the legal limit of $40 a session.

They held the maximum amount per month, however, to the present $40, short of the $200 a month education code allows.

Trustees do not receive expense accounts except for pre-approved out of town meetings or conventions on school business.

The final vote was three to one with Mrs. Jean Pappas dissenting stating that she believed $15 a meeting, the present allowance, is sufficient.

The continuation of the series on Placentia's low income housing crisis will be resumed in narrative next week when available space is better able to accommodate it. Illegal entries into homes and the involvement of the public sector are subjects still to be discussed.

News Briefs . . .

Strain Named Commissioner

David Strain, a project manager for Hughes Aircraft Company in Fullerton, was elected on a split city council vote to fill the vacancy left on the city's planning commission by the resignation of banker Ronald Askew.

Strain, a former Jaycee and active participant in Heritage Festival Days celebrations, has lived in the city for 12 years. He is a member of the North Orange County YMCA board of directors, is married and has two children.

He has coached YMCA basketball teams and is a member of the First Methodist Church in Fullerton.

Receiving one vote for the post was local attorney George Bean, supported by Mayor George De Jesus. Others who had applied included Edward Houston, Walter Nollac and Magdalena Gomez.

Mrs. Gomez was appointed to represent the city on the Orange County Health Planning Council.

Shapell Homes Released

Seven homes in the S and S (Shapell) Placentia Village Estates tract by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe tracks in Placentia, previously held off the market by act of city council, have been released, it was indicated at last week's city council meeting.

Eight homes, (one previously relinquished) were refused occupancy permits until noise level standards were met in other Shapell houses immediately adjacent to the railroad.

In a report to city council Tuesday night it was indicated that all the homes now comply with noise level standards and should be certified.

Median Strips Discussed

The Placentia City Council at a special meeting, heard reports on the city's median strips which have experienced problems of proper watering and appropriate tree plantings.

It was indicated that some type of unifying element in plantings will be adopted in the medians in the future.

Ben Minamide, the city's Director of Community Development estimated that between $40,000 to $50,000 will be required to convert an underground soaker watering system now in use to an overhead plan to properly water median grass.

Also of concern to council members was finding sufficient funds to build a large monument welcome sign to be placed in medians. The welcoming structure would utilize a design incorporating the arch and bell tower in the Civic Center Complex mall.

Council Eyes Low Cost Units

An allocation of 50 low income housing units for the city of Placentia along with the needs of the city for units with moderate rents, will be among avenues investigated by a two-member city council committee, it was indicated last week.

City Councilman Jack Gomez asked the city council to appoint him and Councilwoman Virginia Farmer to the committee to assess the city's needs in the low cost housing category. To study the possibilities of meeting the needs of our community.

Bus Benches Bypassed

Bus riders in Placentia will still be standing to wait for a bus. The Placentia City Council last week on a split vote, repeated that they did not want public bus benches to carry advertisements.

The Orange County Transit District has indicated that benches without advertisements are not yet available because of economic considerations.

City To Purchase Art Work

The Placentia Art Association will be granted a $500 purchase order from the Placentia City Council for the acquisition of three art works from a juried art show. The show will be held in connection with Placentia Heritage Festival Days celebration in October.

The art works that are purchased will be hung in public buildings.

Utility Tax Exemptions Adjusted

Utility users tax on city utility bills will be eliminated for families with annual incomes of $7,500 or under, it was voted unanimously by members of the city council at their Tuesday meeting.

Frank Dunnivant, director of the city's finance department, pointed out that the previous dividing point of $3,500 annual income was too low to protect needy families. The previous arrangement gave such families a $5 refund.

Under the new policy with proof of income level provided, utility companies will be instructed to exempt from tax, bills from a meter of a qualifying family, as long as it is in the name of the exempt party.

"For the most part," Dunnivant's report read, "The participants would be senior citizens on a fixed income."

In order to qualify for the exemption, the requesting party is asked to fill out a form to verify eligibility. Forms are to be admitted through the finance department where eligibility would be decided and the decision forwarded to the utility companies, Dunnivant explained. (Continued on Page 13)

Letters To The Editor

Board Decision Disappointing

Editor:

I wish to express my disappointment concerning two recent decisions of the PUSD Board of Trustees.

The position on the Board created by Mr. Zavala's passing should be filled by election rather than by appointment. There is little reason for having a five member Board if the fifth person is a "captive" of the remaining Board members. This member's independence should be encouraged through the elective process. The cost is minimal when compared to the expenditures that the Board will be approving in the next two years.

The decision to "mothball" the Educational Facilities Planning Committee (EFPC) is especially disheartening. As a member, I watched and participated in the growth of this committee. It was slowly evolving into a very important channel for expressing community interest and concern to the Board. I'm not totally persuaded by the argument that there was insufficient work for the committee. As long as facilities planning occurs in the district, the Board can benefit from community input funneled through the EFPC.

Rules For Extra Coaches

Copy to the Courier:

To The Parents Of My Team—

Now that the season has started I find that I have more coaches than I had planned on. We seem to have at least two per player. The players and I are happy that you attend the games, but as coaches please abide by the following rules:

1. Don't alter you son's stance when he is at the plate. We work all week to teach him to look awkward to fool the pitcher. You spoil our strategy if you tell him to keep his elbow up or his head in.
2. Don't help the pitcher by telling him where to pitch or what to throw. It is part of our game plan to throw a wild pitch now and again to keep the batters loose.
3. We want the pitcher to make the batters hit the ball. Otherwise our fielders get cold and have to go to the bathroom.
4. We're trying to get the batters to have a wider plate than usual. We want them to swing at a lot of balls to keep the back muscles loose. Don't encourage them to have a sharper eye.
5. Yelling, "Good eye" when a batter resists swinging at a ball behind him confuses him (and me).
6. Since the players are preconditioned to believe that the umpire is stupid, blind and probably has a box on the other team, your yelling at the umpire reinforces this opinion making the player feel down and feel that no matter what we do we're going to lose. Instead, yell at your closest neighbor who probably is an assistant coach on the other team.
7. Please don't criticize me to your son. For all the years before I got him he has been taught that your word is correct and is law. If he knows you think I'm stupid, he'll feel the same way. That makes for lousy practices. We appreciate your joining the coaching staff and look forward to the time when you can help out at practice.

Interrante Discusses His Position

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity once again to express a few of my thoughts to the people of the Placentia Unified School District. As I am sure most of you know by now, Mr. Sal Zavala, who was a trustee on the school board, passed away suddenly after having had surgery. Such is the human condition with all of us in this life who, after a period of time known only to God, shall have to leave this world and give an accounting to Him for the time that we were given. Mr. Zavala, for almost twenty years, gave of himself in public service to the residents of the PUSD, the North Orange County College District, and also to St. Joseph's Parochial School in his private life. I pray that I may be able to have that much service credited to my ledger book when my turn comes to open it for the final auditing.

Due to the above, there now exists a vacancy on the Placentia School Board. As I'm sure you remember, we had the regular school board election about six weeks ago in which I was a candidate. I ran a very active and open campaign and achieved third place behind two candidates who won the two seats which were up for election. The school board has recently decided that they are going to fill the vacancy by appointing someone from the district.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Rod Jimenez for entering my name into nomination last week before the school board. Since that time I have received numerous expressions of support from all segments and areas of the district. I wish to offer my heartfelt thanks to all of these people for their sentiments. The common threads that ran through all of their remarks was the fact that they felt that the democratic process is important and therefore the results of that last election should be the deciding factor. They also stated that they appreciated my comments and openness in the newspapers.

I wish to take this opportunity to state to all the residents of the PUSD that I am still very much interested in serving them on the PUSD board. However, at this stage, the opportunity to do so does not lie with myself but with the members of the PUSD board. I can only make myself available, but they alone have the responsibility for the decision.

I can assure all the residents of the PUSD that my interests in the welfare of the district are wide and varied. My personal interest in quality education goes back many years. That is why I have been involved in education through personal tutoring and teaching at private schools which have been established by parents themselves. If I had a nickel for every time a parent told me how dissatisfied they were with the quality of their children's education, taking into account the kind of taxes that they pay, I could retire now. Considering the trouble that many parents have put themselves through in order to try to supplement the education of their kids, their sincerity is obvious.

Parents are forever telling me of their personal dissatisfaction with the total moral vacuum that exists in education today. They wonder why a simple fundamental approach to education can't be reintroduced, and why the only solution ever put forth for obvious deficiencies is more taxation and higher administrative costs. They wonder why one area may have an excess, over and above what is really needed, while another area is barely managing to make do with what it has, which is often insufficient. They wonder why we do not encourage voluntary integration with the upgrading of physical facilities and raising educational standards, rather

$1,390,175 Listed In Park Priorities

A frustrated park development program, embarrassed by lack of sufficient funds is expected to receive new impetus here with allocations of State Proposition 2 funding voted in the November, 1976 election.

Placentians voted against the measure.

Outlining a $1,390,175 overall park and facility development schedule, Jim Soto, Director of Recreation and Human Services listed priorities for city council last week.

State monies would be used for $89,900 in projects including tennis court resurfacing at Valencia and El Dorado High Schools (total cost $30,000, half to city and half to Placentia Unified School District), $15,000; Tuffree Hill Park handball wall construction, $1,500; Kraemer Park parking lot, $6,400; Bradford Park development, $38,000 and Wagner Park development phase 3, $22,000.

Number 2 priorities would use $104,500 of park-in-lieu fees (which are behind schedule) as they come in. Included: Wagner Park, phase 2, $25,000; Bradford Park consultant fee, $4,000; Goldenrod Park, phase 2 and playground equipment, $25,000; four park identification signs, $4,000; reconstruction of picnic shelter at Tuffree Hill Park, $3,500; air conditioners for Koch Park and Senior Citizen buildings, $13,000; Tuffree Hill Park parking lot, $20,000 and Tuffree Hill Park play equipment, $10,000.

The first four items in the number 2 priority list could be started in the near future, Soto pointed out.

The priority 3 list, as funds become available would add $1,195,775 in development projects. Included: Goldenrod Park Development, phase 3, $19,800; Kraemer Park sprinkler modification, $25,000; Kraemer Park walkway

La Jolla Delegation Seeks Aid For Area

An oral petition to the city of Placentia to use some of its government funding to improve conditions in the La Jolla area was delivered in person Tuesday night by residents of that neighborhood.

The group is asking the expenditure of $183,752 or part of it, left over from an ambitious $1 million public improvement program now underway in the Atwood section.

The Atwood program is providing streets, sidewalks, curbs, gutters, storm drains and sewers.

Led by Rodrigo Jimenez, former city planning commissioner, the La Jolla neighbors asked for improvement in their housing, parks and an unpaved dirt alley.

"It is the consensus of the people that they desire to be able to rehabilitate and refurbish their homes in some manner," Jimenez began. "There is also concern in the community over the park started several years ago on Gonzales Street and La Jolla Road."

The park, provided by free labor from the area has fallen into disrepair, Jimenez pointed out and was originally expected to provide a drinking fountain. Completing and refurbishing the park could supply badly needed jobs in the area, Jimenez added.

Concerning housing Jimenez explained that some of the homes have not been rehabilitated or refurbished because of low incomes. "It is very difficult for them to expend monies that are needed for other necessities, Jimenez also added that the dirt alley was creating health problems of mud in rainy periods and dirt and dust when it is dry. The alley is the entry for several homes.

Ruth Chadez, who owns property in the La Jolla neighborhood, expressed the area's concern over alleged illegal entries made by city and county inspectors and the dilemma it is creating for the section.

She expressed the desire of the people to have their homes improved but stated the fears of the area over "code enforcement" in which inspectors finding something below building code could give an ultimatum to homeowners to either repair the transgressions or face demolition of their houses.

"On these illegal entries," Ms. Chadez continued, "our community is not going to tolerate that."

Mayor Pro Tem William Rashford said that he and fellow councilmen would like to investigate the illegal entries. "We are your representatives. It is not our policy to have people harass people. If there has been some illegal entries we would like to know about it. We are your representatives."

Ms. Chadez continued on the subject of forcing code regulations that if people were evicted from housing by regulatory action that some other shelter should be provided for them to go to. "If you can guarantee that this is going to take place and at an amount they can afford to pay, we're not in opposition."

"I'm concerned about the elderly people who are living on social security and cannot afford to move out of their homes where they have been living for 30 or 40 years. They fear code enforcement because it may mean having their home condemned."

"There may be someone come in there who is totally insensitive. They may say 'your house is not fit to live in' and yet these people have no place else to live."

Councilman Jack Gomez pointed out that landlords in the area were entitled to raise the rent if they improved their rental properties.

Ms. Chadez: "These people would no longer be able to live there if there is a high increase."

Gomez: "I think this council has the feeling that we have to do something about low income housing and we're willing to do it. We are aware of the needs of all the people in our city and we are going to do something about it."

Also speaking for the La Jolla where does its validity cease? At the college level? High School? Third grade?

That would be like individuals who operate newspapers saying that journalism doesn't matter. We like to think that it does and we work exceptionally hard at it to see, hopefully that it maintains some pragmatic importance in the scheme of things.

If education of some kind or another does not matter in every facet of life...if it really cannot be equated along with along considerations such as how long you have lived in one place, how many outside activities you can claim, or how many youngsters you have, then the people of this school district must be indulging in a terrible $30 million waste each year to bring an unknown quantity to their children.

Education certainly isn't the only criteria and it may inspire a different importance to different individuals, but to rule it out and take off the page seems to be a betrayal, at least to the people who subsidize it and think it is important. There certainly ought to be a lot of those around a school district.

We were glad to see the school board have second thoughts. It could be they are just like the rest of us. Conscientious.

SATURDAY NIGHT CRASH resulted in three teenagers being hospitalized for their injuries. The Ford pickup truck (in the back) driven by a 16-year-old Yorba Linda girl, reportedly hit the unoccupied parked Chevrolet sports car, overturning it. The three girls in the truck were treated at Placentia-Linda Community Hospital after the 10:30 p.m. crash on Yorba Linda Boulevard near Hamer Drive. The accident is still under investigation. The driver received head injuries and her companions arm and facial injuries. Passengers were Cynthia Powell, 19, of Placentia and Betty Richardson, 19, of Fullerton. The cars also careened into a back wall, demolishing part of it.

Average OC House $107,214

New homes of the single family detached variety presently available for purchase in Orange County now bear an average price tag of $107,214, up a whopping $26,079 from the $81,135 average of nine months ago, according to a report released this week by First American Title Insurance Company.

In announcing results of the survey just completed, Philip W. Kunisch, market research director, noted that the average size of available houses is 2,497 square feet, compared with a somewhat smaller average sized home, 2,163 square feet, in the study reported in July 1976. Fewer houses, 544, are now on the market, as compared with 908 available in the earlier survey, he said. Prices range from a $63.95 model in Anaheim to a $220,000 home at Lazy Creek in Orange. Included in the current report are 47 developments having 7,630 proposed total dwellings. Completed houses numbered 3,531, or 46 percent, of which only 70, or less than two percent, remained unsold.

Parachutes at Nixon

The Sky Scraper Parachute Team will let their ripcords fly over and down to mark the second annual Richard Nixon PIA Carnival at the school, 18011 Yorba Linda Blvd., Saturday, April 30 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The team was formed 11 years ago. Since then they have developed into one of the best known exhibition teams in the United States, jumping and thrilling crowds from coast to coast.

The free falls will be performed at 11:30 a.m. and at 2:30 p.m. giving everyone a chance to visit the most unusual Country Store and bakery as well as the game and food booths.

Kindergarten, Summer School Registration

BY CAROL CLIFFORD

There are two important events taking place this week at Wagner Elementary. They are Kindergarten Registration and Summer School Registration.

Kindergarten will have its round-up on Wednesday, April 27 at 2 p.m. in the Multi-Media lab. We hope that all the parents who have Kindergarten students for next year will be able to register at this time. For the S and S Homes, we will be registering for Tynes School at the same time. If you can't make it on Wednesday you can come any of the days of the week of April 25-29.

Summer School this year will run the same way as last year with one exception. For our upper grades (pre 4th, 5th and 6th) we will be offering an outdoor education program. This will include one week at camp in the San Bernardino Mountains. The cost will be between $35 to $40. It is an excellent program.

We hope many people will take advantage of this opportunity.

"Law Day" Program

"Law Day" is scheduled each year on or about May 1. This year the Orange County Bar Association, through their area chairmen, is providing various programs for public participation on the theme "Partners in Justice". Roland E. Bigoner, chairman for the Yorba Linda-Placentia area, has stated that local City Councils have been contacted to proclaim "Law Day" by resolution.

The Orange County Bar Association, co-sponsored by the Municipal and Superior Courts in cooperation with the Lawyers' Wives of Orange County, is presenting "Your Day in Court" on Saturday, April 30, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

There will be an opportunity for the public to watch a demonstration trial, take a guided tour of the courthouse, and talk with judges and lawyers on subjects of interest to the general public.

All local municipal and superior courts (Newport Beach, Laguna Niguel, Santa Ana, Fullerton and Westminster) will be participating.

CHOIR JUDGE

John Biggs of the John Biggs Consort, Placentia, served as a judge in the recent Golden West College's fourth annual high school choir festival held recently at the college.

Summer Enrollment Now

Summer school registration in the Placentia Unified School District is underway, and enrollment forms should be returned by Friday, April 29 to assure students placement in classes of their choice.

Parents who want to enroll their children in the June 27-July 29 elementary summer school session or the June 17-July 29 session for junior and senior high students should return completed forms to local schools.

Schedules of summer school offerings are being mailed to all parents in the district.

Elementary schools will send enrollment forms home with students. Junior and senior high schools will make their own enrollment arrangements, according to Dr. Marvin Stewart, director in charge of summer school. Forms will be available at all schools.

Students should register for the grades they will be in when school starts in September.

During the summer, the entire school district is considered as a single attendance area, so students may attend any school which is most convenient or which offers the desired courses, Stewart said. Bus transportation will not be provided.

Further information about summer school may be obtained at local schools.

Drill Team Gives Show

"Make Your Own Kind of Music" will be the theme of a show presented by the 46 members of the El Dorado High School Drill Team.

The presentation will be given at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 27 in the school gymnasium.

Ticket prices are $2 for adults, $1 for children and students $1.50 with Student Body card.

Proceeds will be used for a trip to Las Vegas with the school band to appear in the HellDorado Parade.

Watercolorist Here

Renowned watercolorist Ken Decker will be the featured artist at the monthly lecture-demonstration meeting of the Placentia Art Association on April 28.

KEN DECKER AND WATERCOLOR

A commercial artist for 15 years, Decker now devotes all his time to teaching and demonstrating his techniques throughout the western United States.

Decker has won numerous awards in major art shows, and because of his informative and entertaining presentations is in demand by many art associations.

The public is invited to attend the meeting, which will start at 7:30 p.m. at the Backs Community Building, 201 N. Bradford, Placentia.

Further information about this program or the art association may be obtained by calling Lorry Trogden, 524-2814.

At Southern California Edison, we realize that conserving energy is no easy matter for anybody. And we truly appreciate all you've been doing to help.

The problem is that the need to conserve is still with us. And it calls for personal involvement on everyone's part. To help, we're putting our computer to work for you in a new way.

How does our computer know your electricity habits?

You tell it. Simply by filling out a short questionnaire we'll send you. The questions ask about your appliances, home characteristics and your family's present use of electricity.

Of course, along with energy conservation, S.A.V.E.S. can help hold down your electricity bills.

So fill out the coupon below and we'll mail you a questionnaire. Then we'll send you your own personalized energy savings program.

LINDA VISTA PHARMACY

The story of aureomycin's discovery is one calculated to reassure those who fear that old age means uselessness. Dr. Benjamin Druggar, forced into retirement from his college teaching at 71, discovered this drug, the first of the broad spectrum antibiotics to be extensively marketed.

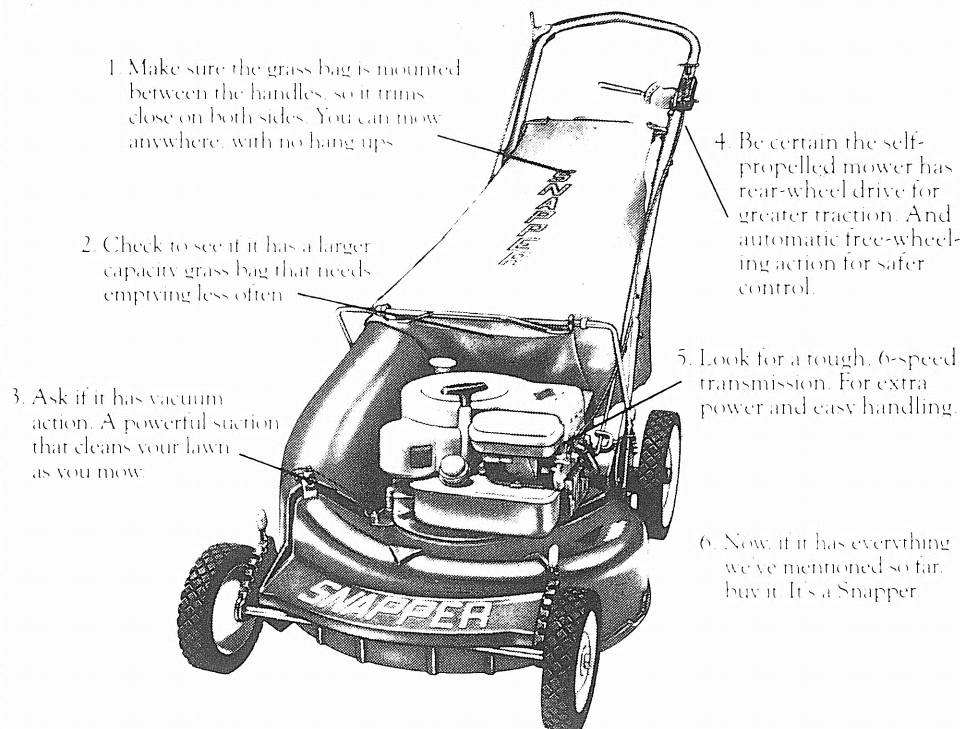

Three years of painstaking search finally produced a golden mold in a culture dish seeded with mud, specifically Missouri mud...and a new, highly effective disease-killer was born. Missouri earth has no sole claim on medical immortality, however, for it was a pinch of Indiana soil which later produced terramycin.

Attention to your medical needs is our most important business so, whatever medication your doctor prescribes, bring the prescription to LINDA VISTA PHARMACY.

How to buy a lawn mower.

1. Make sure the grass bag is mounted between the handles, so it trims close on both sides. You can mow anywhere, with no hang ups.

2. Check to see if it has a larger capacity grass bag that needs emptying less often.

3. Ask if it has vacuum action. A powerful suction that cleans your lawn as you mow.

4. Be certain the self-propelled mower has rear-wheel drive for greater traction. And automatic free-wheeling action for safer control.

5. Look for a tough, 6-speed transmission. For extra power and easy handling.

6. Now, if it has everything we've mentioned so far, buy it. It's a Snapper.

Hawks Top Tigers 5-0

BY BRIAN HILDERBRAND

Dave Otto and Jay Pamer combined for a two-hitter against Valencia last Friday, as El Dorado came away with a 5-0 shutout in Orange League baseball action.

ED's loop record now stands at 3-7, four games under the .500 percentage mark. On the season, the Hawks' record is 7-11-2. El Dorado shares the cellar with Canyon, whom the Hawks have beaten twice this year. The Hawks' only other win was against Valencia.

The Hawks' started their scoring attack in the first inning, as Greg Fredrickson led off with a single. Dave Nagy pushed Fredrickson over to second on a ground out. Carl Hill's errant pickoff throw allowed Fredrickson to take third, setting up ED's first run of the game.

Mark Ashford flied out deep to centerfield, sacrificing the runner in as the Hawks took a 1-0 lead.

El Dorado came back with two runs in the fourth to pad their lead. Thirdbaseman Bob Lee opened the inning with a single, as did Rick Hayes. Catcher Dan Ruppe laid down a bunt to push the runners to second and third with one out. Ted Phillips then lined a single to right, scoring Lee from third.

Brett Manwill, hitting for Otto, scored Hayes on a sacrifice ground out. ED came away from the inning with a commanding 3-0 advantage.

In the top of the fifth, Valencia made their only scoring threat of the game, loading the bases with one out. Kelly Rosas led off with a walk; Mark Lambert struck out; Steve Kirk singled, and Don Reynolds drew a walk to fill the bases.

Although Pamer came in to relieve Otto and gave up the walk to Reynolds to load the bases, he pitched himself out of the jam. Frank Martinez popped out to second, and Nick Garcia hit back to the pitcher, who threw him out to end the inning.

El Dorado added two more insurance runs in their half of the fifth to ice the win. The Hawks scored two runs with two outs on an RBI single by Chris Vidovich and an error.

A lead-off walk by Nagy started the inning, but the Tigers quickly posted two outs. Vidovich, batting for Lee, scoring Nagy. Tom Apadoca hit a shot that the shortstop had problems with, allowing Vidovich to score. That ended the Hawks' scoring, and at the end of five, El Dorado had a 5-0 lead.

Greg Fredrickson turned in his third consecutive two-plus hit performance, collecting two hits in four at-bats. Last Tuesday at Brea, the second-third baseman racked up three hits in as many chances. Against Canyon two weeks ago, he went two-for-three. In 10 league games, Fredrickson has 13 hits, and has been playing outstandingly defensively at both second and third base.

After playing a night game yesterday with Esperanza, the Hawks will travel to Sonoma for a 3:15 game. In their first meeting, the Raiders took an impressive 10-3 win.

Errors Figure In Score

BY COLEEN COLE

Valencia's league rival Esperanza handed the Tigers a victory in the game played last Tuesday.

Final score of the game, which was played on Valencia's diamond, was 3-0. Pitcher Mike McCall was credited with the win.

The Tigers scored their runs in the third inning, after getting to base on two walks and a single. Several errors on the part of Esperanza infielders brought in all three Tigers.

Luck was not with Valencia on Friday, as they were defeated by El Dorado on the Hawk home diamond.

Tiger players committed many errors to give El Dorado five runs and the win.

Carl Hill started as pitcher, but was relieved by Steve Seraphine in the fifth inning.

First baseman Don Singley and rightfielder Mike McCall played well for Valencia. Singley had one of the two hits for the Tigers, with second baseman Steve Kirk possessing the other hit.

The Tigers will face Canyon in a night game next Friday. Scheduled to start at 7:30, the game will be played at Boysen Park, Anaheim.

Bodybuilder Opens Store

Glenn Maur and his wife, Clare, will be opening the Yorba Linda Nutrition Center at 18551 Yorba Linda Blvd., in the Lakeview Center.

Glenn and Clare's nutritional knowledge came first hand while Glenn was successfully competing as an AAU Powerlifter and Bodybuilder.

Glenn was twice the California State Powerlifting Champion and won a bronze medal at the 1976 World Powerlifting trials.

After an injury, Glenn trimmed nearly 50 pounds off his highest powerlifting bodyweight and decided to try his hand at bodybuilding.

On March 26th of this year, Glenn traveled to Stockton where he won the "Mr. Western United States" title as well as being named the "Most Muscular Man." He was also given awards for "Best Arms" and "Best Legs."

After he gets his business established he plans to train for next year's "Mr. USA" and "Mr. America" contests.

The business will be based on personalized service. Glenn will offer nutritional counseling and write free individualized dietary programs.

A free monthly nutritional newsletter may be picked up at the store. Anyone interested in weightlifting may feel free to stop in for free training hints and advice.

The store's grand opening is scheduled for May 16th. If there are any schools or public service groups that would like to have Glenn give a talk on powerlifting, bodybuilding and the role of nutrition in these and all sports, he can be contacted at the store.

He will be glad to do these talks free as a public service to the community.

His wife Clare's assistance, with her cooking of a very specialized diet, he feels helped him succeed with his bodybuilding efforts.

Clare will also be working in the store and will be glad to give advice on cooking for families on a specialized nutritional program.

Tiger Track Team Trips

BY COLEEN COLE

Valencia's varsity track team suffered a loss from Canyon last week in Orange League action to put them further out of first place.

In the meet, which the Tigers lost 76-60, Canyon set two new school records for the mile and the mile relay. Time for the mile was 4:29.5, and the mile relay was 3:29.0.

Some of the better moments for Valencia came in such events as the pole vault and the discus, with Chip Reiter (VA) going 13' 0" for first place in the pole vault. Sophomore Steve Bruce recorded 158' 0" for first in the discus.

All participants in the triple jump turned in good performances, with Berger (C) taking first, 43' 2", Mark Halvorson (V) capturing second, 42' 7", and Matt Sturms (V) receiving third, 42' 4".

In the last regular league meet before finals, the Tigers will face Brea-Olinda next Thursday at 2:30 p.m. at Brea.

Hawk Golfers Fly

BY BRIAN HILDERBRAND

Tony Piraino fired a 72 as El Dorado's golf team took a crucial Orange League match, edging Esperanza, 405-407 at Yorba Linda Country Club.

The Golden Hawks' win proved to be instrumental in their fight for a fourth consecutive OL title. ED's record in conference play was 9-0 as of the Esperanza match. (The Hawks had two matches this week, but results were not available at press time.) On the season, coach Carl Sweet's team owns a 12-4 mark.

Piraino won the only individual match for the Hawks, while two other ED golfers, Alan Shoho and Doug Effenberger, tied their opponents. Piraino beat Eric Saunders by 12 strokes, 72-84. Shoho and Effenberger shot 83 and 80, respectively.

Pat Bednarski lost his match to Jeff Goettsche by nine shots, 88-79. Goettsche was the Aztecs' medalist.

Phil Krikorian was edged by Mitch Haynam, 82-81; and Larry Moore dropped his match with Mike Gibson, 89-87.

El Dorado's last Orange League match will be held next Thursday, May 5, against Savanna. The match will be held at ED's home course, Western Hills.

Swimmers Place At AAU Meet

Three Swim Team of Placentia swimmers placed in their events at an AAU "BC" meet held at Villa Park High School.

SOCCER SEASON PLANS are underway and signups started Saturday, April 16. This group was checking out the procedure at Tuffree Park, where Little League games were underway. Many players and coaches are active in both programs.

Celebrity Tennis to Aid MDA

The Sierra Vista Racquet Club will be the site of the celebrity tennis tournament on Sunday, May 1, at 1 p.m., it was announced by Mel Irwin, tournament president.

This unique pro-celeb concept pairs the best of the celebrity players with top, club-level pros in a nationwide circuit, the goal of which is to raise $1 million for Muscular Dystrophy Association.

With the likes of Charlton Heston, Rob Reiner, Desi Arnaz, Jr., and James Franciscus on center court, no one can predict with any certainty what might happen.

Heston has been known to sell the shirt off his back to raise additional funds for MDA, and it's likely he'll do it again. (One enamored fan paid $200 for his slightly soggy shirt in Portland, Oregon.)

Each of the eight pro-celeb teams which comprise Lauder's King of the Hill "Gang", will play seven "point" matches over the 16 month circuit.

Tickets to the May 1 event are available at the Muscular Dystrophy Association office, 1503 N. Tustin Avenue, Santa Ana, 92701, phone 547-6671 and at the Sierra Vista Racquet Club.

Prices are $12.50 for "Meet The Celebrities Brunch" and reserved seating, $7.50 reserved seating and $5 for general admission.

Hard Times Party Set

Income taxes, the price of coffee, gasoline and on and on—these are HARD TIMES. Celebrate these hard times with the Placentia-Yorba-Linda Newcomers at a party on Saturday, May 7th, the club advises.

Wear old clothes, eat hot dogs and forget high prices. This is the last couples outing until next fall and also a very good time to join Newcomers. The usual yearly dues are $7.50 - if you join now, your membership covers the remainder of this year and 1977-78.

The Newcomers Club is an active group which promotes friendship in the local Placentia-Yorba Linda area. Activities include bowling, bridge, arts and crafts, golf, daytime gad-about, and couples-night out. For membership information, call 996-8815.

BIRTH DAY

Proud grandparents Bess and Lou Koppen announce the birth of grandson, Sean Michael, on April 17th. Great-grandparents are Carrie and Lou! The 10 lb. 14 oz. baby and parents are all doing fine. Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Koppen-Redeemer Lutheran Church "Witness".

NO MONEY LEFT for toys, equipment and supplies for the McFadden Preschool sent parents into activities to try and raise funds for the popular prekindergarten class. A bake sale sponsored by mothers in the La Jolla area brought $45 into the parents' treasury. Here Corine Gonzales and Irma Ayala (on the right) serve their customers. A Rummage Sale previously had brought in approximately $180. Teachers of the preschool report they need equipment like tricycles for their active youngsters as the present materials are too few or worn out. Anyone wishing to donate materials can call the school at 630-7810.

The ICAA is a joint powers agency encompassing the participation of the cities of Stanton, Garden Grove, Chino and Santa Ana, presently seeking federal funding to make a 12-site survey for a possible airport

Crowther Street.

In a three-way land transaction valued in excess of $1.2 million, Knott's Berry Farm acquired the Placentia acreage for expansion of its Food Products Division now conducted on five acres at the farm, a facility which it is rapidly outgrowing.

In the transaction Knott's Berry Farm exchanged a 6.3 acre apartment site at the southeast corner of Knott Avenue and La Palma Boulevard in Buena Park for the Placentia acreage.

In the other element of the transaction, Piccadilly Square, a joint venture of Cameo Homes and Lucas Development Corporation of Newport Beach, acquired the 6.3 acre residential site and will construct 152 luxury apartments near Knott's Berry Farm.

Through its Food Products Division, Knott's Berry Farm distributes its food products on a wholesale basis to supermarkets, department stores, gourmet shops and recently introduced a one-ounce portion control package of preserves for restaurants, hotels and the airlines. Knott's also sells fancy food gift packs through its world-wide mail order program.

Olyphant's office reported this week that the Placentia facilities will include railroad shipping accommodations and cold storage to an extent not now available at the famous farm.

PUSD Budget

$355,937,745 and enrollment projections for the year are 18,882 for the district, a slight increase.

A breakdown in the working budget of the Current Expense Formula shows certificated salaries at $14,294,227; books, supplies and equipment, $1,245,310 and contract services and other operational expenses at $1,678,266 for a total of $23,575,961.

A Class A, 5 per cent contingency fund recommended for the budget would amount to $1,453,880. The contingency fund is available for emergencies.

Rodriguez Jimenez, a former Placentia Planning Commissioner, who was the charter chairman of the McFadden Committee, added "Every community should have equal responsibility in seeing that integration is achieved in the most equitable manner."

Founders Meeting

Lassen also has prepared architectural inventories for a number of historic Orange County structures for the Orange County Historic Commission.

Other entertainment for the meeting will be supplied by the Tuffree Junior High School Jazz Band. Refreshments will be served, Clairee Tynes, president of the Founders Society reports.

Progress on converting the Bradford House to public use was still stalemated this week over the issue of the amount of insurance the Founders are expected to purchase and the signing of the lease. The Founders Society is seeking to lease the heritage home for $1 a year and convert it to public use.

Talks between city personnel and Charles Arnoldt, first vice president of the Founders were continuing in an effort to work out the differences between the two groups.

Barbara Moore was voted to fill a seat on the Founders board left vacant by the resignation of Ruth Ellis.

than wasting time and precious resources on forced busing. They want to know why the only time that they ever head from an elected official is once every four years around election time. After all, we must remember that not everyone has the time and is able to become extremely active in school organizations, although as I stated often during the last campaign, I hope that more will try to do so in accordance with their time demands; hopefully at least to try and attend board meetings twice a month or as often as possible.

For these reasons mentioned, and many others, I have sought to have the opportunity to serve the people in this school district on their board. For these reasons I am still willing and available to do so. Only time will tell if I will have that chance. If you support me, let your voice be heard.

Ideas On Parent Committee

To The Placentia Courier:

Thank you for your consistently accurate reporting of the activities of the Educational Facilities Planning Committee.

In September 1974 the Educational Facilities Planning Committee (EFPC) was set up by the Placentia Unified School District Trustees as a citizens' advisory group to study and recommend to the Trustees on items concerned with school facilities. As sometimes happens with new citizens' committees, our first year resulted in little work, and the loss of many members. The second year we participated in the Van Buren issue, and the Sierra Vista boundary change. This third year we sent to the School Board recommendations on sizes of Junior High Schools, parking lots, and the boundaries for the new Tynes and Woodsboro Schools. This year we made some progress in retaining committee member interest, and began working more as a group with a purpose. We still have a long way to go, but we did make progress.

In our activity with the Tynes School boundary, the Staff presented six alternatives for boundaries, four of which would close McFadden. It was evident the Staff favored one of those four. As a citizens' committee we studied the six Staff alternatives, listened to comments from the community, asked our own questions of the Staff, drew and redrew stacks of maps of the Valencia attendance area, accepted a plan from a citizen, and finally presented three different boundary plans to the School Board. They selected one which included the closing of McFadden School.

Now the PUSD Trustees have, in the words of the Courier, "MOTHBALLIED" the EFPC. It was voiced by a citizen that the committee was becoming too powerful. All we ever worked to do was formulate citizen recommendations for the School Board. We tried to investigate and study and discuss alternatives, and to democratically arrive at our recommendations. It is sad that our vigor was interpreted by some to be "dangerous power," when we just began to function more effectively and democratically. And too, it is unfortunate the Trustees recently limited our scope of study to only Board charged items. Several EFPC members were enthusiastic about arriving at a citizens' recommendation on the $8 Million Anaheim Redevelopment funds. What could be more helpful to the Trustees than a prioritized list of the 13 projects from a citizens' committee whose charge is facilities?

A citizens' advisory committee is a difficult line to walk. In the case of the EFPC, the Board appointed members to formulate citizen recommendations for the Trustees, the elected officials of the school district. In our subject of facilities, most of our information came from the Staff.

Citizen advisory committees are coming into existence more and more in the field of education. Most federal and state grant proposals need participation by citizen advisory groups. Two elements are needed if these groups are to be effective:

1. Interested, dedicated citizens who care enough about children's education and training to volunteer their service on these committees.
2. A professional Staff that has quality education foremost in thought so that it does not feel threatened and become defensive when citizens ask questions and wish to discuss alternatives.

Then a School Board can make its decision based on both the recommendations from the Professionals and from the Taxpayers.

Hopefully if the EFPC is reconstituted by the School Board next fall, it will have some definite guidelines. Parents can contribute meaningfully to a school district, and many do desire to serve an institution which is so influential in their children's growth.

Barbara Williams
Chairman of EFPC

delegation were Norma Blecker of Anaheim, UCLA law student whose family originally was from Placentia; Miguel Buena, who works with youth programs for the city of Anaheim and is a resident of La Jolla and Leonel Magana, a resident of Placentia for 57 years, 50 in the La Jolla neighborhood who is the owner of Pee Wee's Market there.

Magana pointed out to councilmen that McFadden Park is hidden behind the "city dump", his reference to the city maintenance yard which is in the area adjacent to the Whitten Community Center.

"They should have put the landscaping in the front instead of in the back," Magana insisted.

Mayor George De Jesus: "If that 'city dump' is as you say it is, we will have something done about it immediately."

Magana: "I sure appreciate that."

Also speaking was Amanda Drzanek. An additional hearing will be held before the city council on May 3 and proposals must be submitted to Orange County by June 10, it was pointed out.
